Mr. Frank Scully,
c/o Henry Holt & Co;
257 - 4th Avenue,
New York, N.Y.

Dear Mr. Scully:

I wrote you about a year ago addressing you care of Popular Library, Inc. and evidently you never received my letter or were too busy to answer it, so I am making another attempt.

I also addressed a letter to Mr. Silas Newton care of The Newton Oil Company, Denver; the letter never came back and I received no reply.

Your book "Behind The Flying Saucers" is a constant inspiration to me and I am starting on a third reading, but being constantly interrupted it is difficult to get as much out of it as I would like. Then too, my so called spare moments are few and far between so that the several attempts I have made at experimenting with magnets and a compass resulted in little more than reversed polarity of the compass needle which I was able to correct with a magnet.

For personal reasons, I would like to go into seclusion and I can think of nothing better than to be able to spend that time in some form of research work on the Flying Saucers. Yours is the only avenue open to me and I thought if I could contact you perhaps you could, if you would be so kind, set me on the proper course. I am a German born American citizen arriving in this country at the age of six in 1908 and although measured in years, I cannot any longer claim to being a young man, I can do a good twelve hour days work and in fact have been doing so in the photographic studio where I work for quite a while. I have always yearned for work in a scientific research capacity, but have never had the opportunity to make the right contacts. I have an average intelligence, am trustworthy and reliable.

In June of last year I visited Denver because I had always wanted to and it seemed ironical that I should pick up your book in Portland, Maine while waiting for my train on the return trip. Had I found it on the way out, I might have been more successful making inquiries while I was there.

I hope to have the pleasure of hearing from you so that we may get better acquainted. Thank you.

Sincerely yours,
Wolfgang E. Weigelt

Dear Reverend Baller:-

Thank you so much for your letter of March 11, 1952, giving an account of your sighting of three discs or globes. It goes in the file with other sightings, and its amazing how they match up. If only we had time to make a career out of research along that line.

I believe I owe you another letter of thanks for a lovely letter you wrote long time ago. Please forgive the delay. Frank has been dreadfully ill for quite a while now, and is up again, but not feeling very chipper. Sylvia is still at Smith and I sure hope she will get the occasion to go and say Hello to you before she has to turn homeward at the end of the school year, or that you would by some chance be going through Northampton and meet up with her. But you probably know 18 year olds as well as Hopple the Hopper, they are just about as jumpy too.

If and when you come across some more disc material, we would be grateful if you send it along. One day all of it together will be something to behold. And meanwhile all the best wishes and thanks.

Yours faithfully,

Mrs. Frank Scully

Dear Mr. Scully,

Since writing you last year about mummies of a race of small people who lived in Utah, I have tried to get more information on them for you, but as yet have not located the friend who told me about them. However, today, while sorting some old clippings, I found a letter from the man who discovered them. It was dated 1932, so I do not know whether he is still living nor where he lives now.

I am also enclosing ten cents ($.10) to repay you for the postage on my book, which you kindly autographed and returned to me. Thank you so much.

I was married last summer and now live on a cattle ranch in Wyoming but am here on a short visit.

Those people may have been colonists brought here by Flying Saucers or maybe they crash-landed and couldn't return.

Sincerely,

Fairy Kelemen Latham

Francis Broman, Esq

Denver, Colo.

My dear Mr Broman:

(Menzel) I have just read a fantastic version of the March 8 1950 lecture of Silas M Newton in Donald Menzel's book. As ~~he~~ wasn't there anymore than I was, he had ~~to~~ of course ^{to} get it second-hand. In fact he seems to have got about everything in his book second-hand, which for Harvard is pretty sad.

Reading over my own version I note you come out very well and this could only be so because Mr Newton, who is an astonishingly sharp reporter, had given me such a favorable impression of you. But he never gave me some of the science-fiction, which Menzel seems to have unearthed in relation to the famous lecture, which seems to have immortalized everybody (you, me and Menzel included), except the lecturer himself who never to my knowledge charged Denver University or anybody else a fee for his well integrated talk on a vast and mysterious subject. He in fact seems to have got the works for his audacity and scholarship.

Since Mr Newton bought a copy of my book and asked me to autograph it to you, which I did, and since moreover in two years time you never raised any issue as to the veracity of my version as to what happened at that lecture, what defense can you offer ~~for~~ pulling out of a hat conditions supposedly laid down by you as prerequisites to the lecture, conditions which you know were never laid down by you or anybody else? Is this the way to pay your respects to persons who had paid every respect to you?

Menzel lays down this long list of conditions allegedly laid down by you, whereas the only conditions laid down by anybody ever brought to my attention were those Mr Newton laid down to you when George Koehler asked him if he would acquiesce to addressing your basic science class on flying saucers.

Mr Newton has always said that you kept faith with the conditions laid down by him and it is a fact that I have never seen any story tying your name in with the betrayal of his request for anonymity.

In order therefore to keep your record clear would you please let me have a copy of the conditions you are quoted by Menzel with laying down, together with such supporting statements of persons who saw you give them to Mr Newton? Will you further give me any supporting testimony of anybody who heard you and Mr Newton discussing these conditions and whether he accepted them or rejected them?

According to my records there was precious little opportunity before, during or after the lecture for you to talk to Mr Newton on any such matters as alleged by Menzel. Isn't it true you met Mr Newton who was introduced to you by Mr Koehler less than ten minutes before the lecture was scheduled to start? And wasn't ~~the~~ only topic of conversation the method by which you would introduce Mr Newton to the audience? You are aware of course that I have a tape recording of what went on and of your voice and Mr Newton's. In other words I'm not trying to trap you. I simply want to clear the record so as not to do any injustice to anybody when I get down to the final writing of my next book.

There's a terrific pressure for me to rush out that next book but I intend to follow the course I laid down in Behind The Flying Saucers and give everybody a fair chance, a degree of scholarship which could hardly be attributed to Menzel, who never even asked Newton if the various lies and libels were true or false. I suppose for every reader Menzel might eventually get, I already ~~have~~ have thousands, being translated in ten languages by now and the ball keeps rolling along. I have I suspect the most extensive One Man Project Saucer in the world.

I like the loyalty of free men and I liked yours in relation to Si Newton. He still has mine unqualifiedly. All I ask is that you clear the record to get yourself out of the line of battle. And ~~may~~ I ask in this connection, what your real title is? I have seen you referred to as an instructor, a professor and a lecturer. Or were you an instructor in 1950 and are a professor or assistant professor now?

Pax et Bonum.

Faithfully,

Dear Mr. Scully:

With Vacation Time approaching, I thought that I should again enquire as to whether you and or Mr. Newton might be on this way again this summer, as I'm on the Aero Club of New England Committee to hold a meeting on Space Travel, and we'd like very much to arrange the meeting for the time of your visit. Also Mr. Alexander C. Hamilton, the engineer who demonstrated large forces by means of magnetic lines of force will be on from Detroit.

Speaking of Magnetic Lines of Force, which you and Newton were the first to attribute to Saucer propulsion, did you see the Los Angeles Times article about inventor Townsend Brown's electro gravitational generator. "Saucers operate in a field of electro-gravity with the negative pole at the top and the positive pole at the bottom," he stated. "The Saucer travels like a surf board on the incline of a wave that is kept continually moving by the saucers electro-gravitational generator" explained Bradford Shank, third spokesman for the group.

I'm enclosing copy of my letter to Mason Rose, President of the new University for Social Research who is demonstrating the working model. Perhaps you might get time to look them up.

The Rockefeller Institute people professed to know nothing of the little men that I wrote you were dissected there.

The motion picture, the "Day the Earth Stood Still" had a good reproduction of the way you described the Saucers. I wondered if they followed your description.

The Department of Space Medicine, Air University, Randolph Field wrote all our speakers at the Third Annual Meeting on Space Travel for copies of their speeches, and from the Life Article and others, it looks like the Brass were letting the people get educated to the news you were the first to have guts enough to write up.

Best regards to Mr. Newton. I've got some people you'd both like to meet, if you can get on here. Alan H. Andrews

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

T.S.
Office Copy

Frank Scully, author of "Behind the Flying Saucers," returned to his Hollywood home from Nevada and when confronted by queries concerning the latest effort of a branch of the Department of Defense to blow down all belief in flying saucers laughed off the latest effort as "pretty naive." Scully referred to Dr. Urner Liddel of the Office of Naval Research who claims "the saucers are real, all right, but are balloons," as "just one more piece of double-talk from the balloonatic fringe."

Scully said he had been in Las Vegas checking on the effects the atomic explosions have had on crap tables and roulette wheels. He said he didn't notice any appreciable difference, but added that Dr. Liddel, who is chief of the nuclear physics branch of ONR, "has come out with more wrong answers than a rigged slot machine."

"Liddel says," Scully explained, "that flying saucers have been unheard of until his branch of the naval arm began experimenting with balloons. Well, for his benefit, Charles Fort and others have recorded instances of flying saucers running back to the seventeenth century. That's long before O N R or Liddel was born."

Scarcely had this latest "trial balloon" been released to the public when the intelligences operating flying saucers decided to exercise their sense of humor, seemingly. Two Wright-Patterson Air Force officers reported a saucer over Almagordo while tracking a large weather balloon. What's the matter with these visitors? Can't they read (1) that Dr. Liddel says saucers don't exist and are really balloons and (2) no stranger is supposed to be flying around military installations like Almagordo?

"Liddel says further that his balloons, which he is sure everybody has confused with saucers, travel 200 miles an hour and go twenty miles high. Do they fly against the wind? I ask because flying saucers have been reported flying at 1200 miles per hour against the wind. In fact they have been reported as traveling faster than that.

"Did Dr. Liddel never hear of Commander Robert E. McLaughlin? He was quite important in O N R. In fact he reported more than a year ago on a flying saucer in what would be called a controlled experiment and it completely contradicts Liddel's theory. McLaughlin had a crew checking on a balloon at White Sands Proving Ground with a theodolite and a stopwatch. Then an elliptical-shaped object 105 feet in diameter crossed the path of their balloon. It was traveling at 1800 m.p.h. It was checked at an altitude of fifty-six miles. No balloon has gone above twenty miles. McLaughlin put his binoculars on the object and said it showed no exhaust trail, no stream of light, or other evidence of propulsion. The commander thought it might be a flying saucer from another planet and had the indiscretion to say so. That was the end of McLaughlin in O N R. He was heaved to sea and assigned to command the Bristol.

"Liddel takes special pains not to mention this betrayer of the Pentagonian party line regarding flying saucers. He takes special pains not to mention me, either, but he's a poor stooge for this sort of controversy. His report never gets off the ground."

Dear Sir:

We read with interest of your experiments and explanation of the flying discs for the following reasons:

1. For the past three years we have conducted an annual meeting on Space Travel and Allied Subjects at the Harvard Club in Boston.
2. The writer and this organization has been carrying on research in this field for some years.
3. We are working cooperatively with Roger Babson's endowed organization, the Gravity Research Foundation of New Boston, New Hampshire which acts as a clearing house for all pertinent information, and offers annual prizes for the best essay on a means of harnessing or utilizing gravitational forces. If you wish to compete for this annual $1000 first prize we will send you forms.
4. From our investigations we know that electro-magnetics and gravity are linked together as shown by Mahhews "Nature of Matter, Gravitation and Light" in 1926, so theoretically we believe you are on the right track.
5. We have records that demonstrate the power of proper electro magnetic frequencies to cause objects to rise and fall in space, thus confirming your experiments.
6. We are in communication with various responsible investigators in this field such as Department of Space Medicine, Air University, Randolph Field, and offer our services in connection with such data as you may wish to have brought to the attention of responsible parties.
7. As Director of the Aero Club of New England (the oldest in the world, I believe) I am planning a Space Travel meeting in the coming months, and would welcome one of your associates as a speaker at this meeting.
8. The writer is treasurer of a reinforced plastics Corporation doing rather unique work in an allied field, so am not seeking any remuneration for any assistance that I might give to you or any other pioneers who feel that they have an answer to an unsolved problem.

9. Altho' the writer is an M.I.T. and Harvard man with a degree in Mechanical Engineering, I have noticed that most of our really new discoveries of unique significance are made by men whose minds were not too encumbered with limitations of accepted fact, so I am in agreement with Mr. Bradford Shank being free from those "encumbrances."

10. As a contributor to Foundation for Cycles headed by classmate Dewey, and as a friend and co-director with Professor Harlan True Stetson, who founded and ran the Cosmic Terrestrial Research Foundation operating out of M.I.T., and as a successful market trader (over 50% annual profit on the funds devoted to such trading), I am also in sympathy with Mr. Brown's efforts to correlate the variations in radiation with human psychology and the market. The method I employ is however based upon a Vector Analysis of prices which seems to indicate the timing of the coming high and low points, just as vectors are used to locate the position of supporting members in bridge construction, or as tensors are used in mathematical physics.

11. If you believe I can be of assistance to you in any way, I shall appreciate your calling upon me.

Yours very truly,

Better Life Foundation

1. The Department of Defense has again taken note of certain statements made in your column of March 14, 1951.
2. In accordance with a directive received from the C-in-C an official Board of Inquiry was instituted.
3. Following upon considerable research, the Board (hereinafter referred to as the Board) has reached the official conclusion that neither Ted Berkman nor Raphael David Blau exist. They are both products of a perfervid imagination, an optical illusion or mass hysteria.
4. The Board took official note of the existence of certain documents which might tend to corroborate Scully's wholly tenuous theory---documents such as birth certificates and the testimony of numerous, if reluctant, witnesses. The official conclusion to be drawn from this mass of "evidence" is that there exists a vast and long established conspiracy whose objective is to foist the illusion of the existence of these two men on the gullible civilian population with the object of creating panic in a time of crisis. In this conspiracy, Mr. Scully has been enlisted as either a dupe or a willing foil.
5. It is further stated that in creating the impression of the wholly illusory existence of these men, Mr. Scully has given aid and comfort to the enemies of the Republic.
6. The axiom, gained from the long experience of the motion picture industry, that writers DO NOT EXIST should have served as sufficient warning to Mr. Scully that his column was inconsistent with established and official fact.

I, Jehovah God, tell you that today - this nineteenth day of February, 1952, in Earth Time - is a very momentous one for the people of the Earth. My children from Delos visit you again - this time to chastise you at My Wish. They fly over your battlefields; and soon, very soon, you will feel the power of My Vibrations through them. Think not little men of Earth you escape your just punishment - for the Time of Reckoning has come to you again at the end of My Third Day. When these, My children of Delos, land they are to be welcomed - since they come at My Wish. The punishment they meet out is where I command - and think not those of you My good children need fear them. For they shall be among you - yet molest them not, they do My Bidding. Seek ye not to hide - for they shall find you out. Your only respite is in prayer to Me; and wherein I see fit I, Lord Jehovah God of the Universe, shall give peace - none other. Come, you laggards, awake! - that your punishment shall be more light. For the scorners still I, Jehovah God, have no mercy. Gather then in prayer, all and every one of you that, I, Jehovah God, may show mercy in My Divine Wrath. Those of My High Initiates among you, whom those of you willing shall find, shall show you - the laggards - the Path. Yet those of you who seek them not in order to find Me even now, or search for Me directly in your own hearts - woe to you, I say; for your punishment shall be direful - yea, as the planet of Horus has not seen in all its history. Come then, before ye are utterly destroyed with the magnitude of your own crimes. Come then, I say I, Jehovah God, before the Throne of Judgement with a prayer and not a sneer - for woe betide, woe betide I say, those of ye who further incur My Just Wrath after your aeons of misdeeds. Your punishment shall be such as no one shall have words to describe. No more warnings shall now be given. Oftentimes have I said this to you - yet I have withheld because of the prayers of those among you who loved Me. Now your time, you scorners, is measured not in years - but in days - when this reaches you - in days, I say. Sneer not - you seal but your own fate and the Seal is Doom.

I, Jehovah God, give this to you through My child, Michael, who shall become known to those of you who love Me.

DEFY NOT MY WORD.

Dear Mr. Scully:

I have just finished reading your very enthralling book "Behind the Flying Saucers" ... parts of it two and three times. I am intensely interested in it and would very much like to have any additional up-to-date data you might have on the subject.

My real reason for writing to you is to query whether or not the Air Force has ever acknowledged your 20 questions in any way.

I imagine you are a busy man but I hope that you are not too busy to jot off a little line to me to settle these questions in my mind.

Incidentally, I think your controversial book is very interesting and although it sounds fantastic, could very easily be factual... which I am inclined to believe.

Do hope I hear from you, Sir.

Dear Sir:

I have just completed your book, "Behind the flying Saucers" and although the scientific end of it is well over my head, I find the theme fascinating, and one that should be of the utmost importance to us all.

The purpose of this letter is to find out how much of this account is absolutely believable, and how much I can take with a grain of salt.

I hope this isn't a tale of fiction, as I think this is something that is not to be taken lightly, or exaggerated.

Dear Mr. Gault:-

Yes, what about that? I thought I had worked out something cute in comparing those Roman legions to flying saucers, but you prove to me that I'm not a mathematician and when I swung away in my youth from the study of engineering to journalism it was the smartest thing I had ever done, and I should never have gone back to figures of any sort.

But don't let my small contributions to the saucerian saga throw you. It took two years for Life and the Air Force to come around to saying what I had said in 1950 and they have yet to acknowledge my priority in the field. But I acknowledge your corrections, and hope you will enjoy the Journal of A Saucerian if and when I get around to writing it.

Dear Mr. Scully:

I have been wondering if you ever learned any more about the chaplain who assisted in the burial of the little men, which you mentioned in a letter to me a long time ago.

Perhaps you have learned something about the ships that are landing--and where, etc. The whole saucer deal must have had some development since you published your book.

I have been continuing my research about the Australia base, but there seem to be several closer, aren't there? *Andes ?
Aleutians ?*

Your mention of astronomical photographs was interesting. I have learned that several astronomers have such pictures. Why is there still a lid on the publishing of such things?

I had some correspondence with Dr. Lincoln La Paz of University of New Mexico who had been studying the fireballs last fall. He was very interested for a while, then suddenly clammed up, either because of sudden skepticism or sudden knowledge on the subject. Interesting. . .

Would be pleased to have a few lines from you when you have time.

Dear Sir,

By means of a friendly recommendation from the Academy of Political Science, Columbia University, New York, it is now possible to me to address myself to you, Sir, on behalf the phenomenon of the "Flying Saucers" which was in his time treated by you. I wish to report to you in great traits from the last results of investigation which already are before a little circle of Austrian scientists, awaiting an intelligent critical examination. In your publication which unfortunately I have not in totality at my disposal, you came to the supposition, that it depends upon objects originated from the Venus respectively from another external station located between Venus and earth. Contrasting it was possible to us to recognise in the "Flying Saucers" implements of r e l i g i o u s c u l t, which descend from nearly prehistorical time and principally played a certain t h e r a p e u t i c a l r o l e in the old-iranian and celtic systems of religion, which vestige could be pursued ascending till in the occidental sphere of action of the Parsism in the 13th century. In the principle are the "Flying Saucers" to impute to the (brahmanian) so called "B h a m a n i V i m a n a" - such is the terminology in Sanskrit for vessels of levitation which had been brought in flight exempt of gravitation by means of the vibration of certain crystals. Still in the 13th century were available to distinct european communities of religion such free-suspended discs of cult in which field of power, concealed in caverns of mountains, had been accomplished certain rites. Such mounts were called in vulgar expression at the time "M o u n t s o f V e n u s", since it was dedicated this cult to the f e m i n i n e principle of nature. Upon the discs itself were represented astronomical images and relations. Respecting the material used for the manufacture, it was an a l c h e m i s t i c a l product. Further explications about can be following perhaps later on.

I have in earlier time completely reported about on the addresses of Mr. Walther R i e d e l and also to the Direction of the North American Aviation Inc. and I request you, in the case that this matter is interesting to you, to enter in correspondence with the above named personalities. The respective addresses are: Aerophysics & Atomic Energy Research Division, North American Aviation Inc. 12214 Lakewood BLVD. D o w n e y, Cal. U.S.A.

There is a great expectation that would be possible to co-ordinate your hypothesis of the Venus-origin of the "Flying Saucers" with our own hardly attackable results of investigation. In this manner lays the possibility to conduce the whole problem at last to a satisfactory solution.

Expecting your early and kindly response I remain with the best compliments

very truly yours

Ing. Erich Halik

Dear Mr. Scully,

In accordance with one of the honors programs at Amherst, I decided to write a paper on flying saucers. As research on this subject I have been reading some of the material you have written on the existence of such machines. I was particularly interested in the references to the University of Denver speech and some of the statements made by this speaker, especially as they concerned the "little men" apparently discovered in the space ships, and I wondered if I could ask you some questions which have been arising in my mind.

We have always been taught that the strains of gravitational and momental forces as would be encountered in the operation of such flying saucers would be almost certainly far greater than any which our bodies could stand. Since the "little men" described would rather seem to be similar in bodily functions to ourselves, and since it seems probable that such men could not likely withstand forces of 20 or 30 g, this would seem to me a stumbling block to the scientific possibility of such extra-planetary visitors as outlined and discussed by the Denver speaker.

A

Another point about which I have been wondering, which I did not gather from your book, was whether you yourself had actually handled any such objects as the small radio which you described and if so what your personal opinions had been. Have you personally seen any film or material proof of the saucers of which you gave such an interesting account?

At any rate, thank you for a most fascinating book on this still-to-be learned-about subject,

Sincerely yours,
Mary Potter

Dear Miss Potter:-

Thank you so much for your letter to Mr. Scully. I am taking it upon myself to answer it as he was swamped hopelessly by correspondence long time ago with questions regarding Behind The Flying Saucers, meaning that if your letter went with the unanswered-letters-to-be-answered-at-first-opportunity we would all be great grand parents maybe before he plowed through.

In regard to the gravitational forces in a flying saucer during flight, it has been explained that if a flying saucer is operated by magnetic force, they would have the magnetic powers under control, or rather would completely understand how to harness magnetic power. There would be no difficulty in pressurizing their cabins and have them in magnetic balance, and with that magnetic balance they would not feel the gravitational forces at all. The best example is that we actually are whizzing around on the surface of the world and don't even feel as if we are moving. I am sorry my explanation might be quite unscientific in wording, but the idea is what I have been told, and fully accept.

As to small objects from the saucers. We have both handled some metal discs and gears as well as had the radio in our house and the most ~~we~~ that I could say of them is that they seemed unusual.

With all the very best wishes

Yours sincerely,
